SPEAKER:

Amity Millhiser

Vice Chair and Chief Clients Officer
PwC

Topic: "Culture Matters When It Comes to the Bottom Line"

Globalization, technology and a growing diverse workforce are shaping the workplace of the future. Workplace culture is more important today than in any other time in history. But when we come to work – the place where we spend the majority of our time – we often don't openly address these topics. Amity Millhiser, PwC's Vice Chair & Chief Clients Officer, will share the economic benefit to companies evolving an inclusive culture to grow and retain the best people.

Amity Millhiser serves as the firm's leading client adviser. From her base in Silicon Valley, Amity brings perspectives on digital and emerging technologies to clients as well as experience leading transformation across industries and sectors. Amity is a thought leader on diversity in business as a contributor to PwC's co-founding of the CEO Action for Diversity and Inclusion.

As a member of PwC's US Leadership Team, she is heavily involved in the people and change initiatives PwC has invested over the years focused on flexibility, health & wellness, diversity & inclusion, and most recently the focus to reskill the digital acumen of PwC's workforce.

Amity has been at the forefront of transformation for clients ranging from high-growth startups to market-leading multinational corporate and private equity clients on acquisitions, divestitures, capital market transactions, and IPOs. She is a vocal advocate for women in leadership having been named one of the California Diversity Council's Top 50 Most Powerful Women in Technology in 2015 and one of Silicon Valley's Women of Influence in 2012.
